

David V. Repko, CEBS

*Director-Health & Welfare Programs
United States Steel Corporation
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania*

Mr. Repko is the Director of Health and Welfare Programs for United States Steel.

Prior to joining U. S. Steel, he was the director of benefits for Nestle. He previously was a Senior Vice President at National City Corporation, responsible for the company's benefits program.

Before joining National City, Mr. Repko was a principal and health and welfare practice leader at Towers Perrin's Cleveland, Ohio office. Before Towers Perrin, Mr. Repko was corporate manager of benefit development at JCPenney and held various positions at JCPenney, including corporate manager of health care costs and personnel relations attorney. He received his B.A. from Pennsylvania State University and a J.D. from Duquesne University School of Law.

In 2010, Mr. Repko was president of the Corporate Board of the International Foundation of Employee Benefit Plans. Mr. Repko is an ISCEBS fellow. He served as president of the Governing Council of the ISCEBS in 2005.

He has served as a director of the National Business Group on Health (NBGH), vice chair of the Conference Board Council on Employee Benefits and president of the Midwest Pension and Benefit Association.